No: 8 - November 6 Invitation For Scamble and Price Giving

Another Interleague season has been completed ...

As you will have read [if your captains distribute the newsletter !!!] there were three teams battling for top honours and each with something to prove..... Cloggies could they hold their bottle and retain the trophy / ISCI could they remove the bridesmaid tag and actually improve / TinCups could they repeat their historic inaugural championship. No doubt that for these teams there were definitely signs of nerves and as you can read further on it provided for a few interesting incidents.

OK - moving onto the results

Cloggies vs. ISCI 8:2

Those little 'wooden folks' with long fingers for blocking dykes; of in the case of Sharon "BB" --- blocking ears from the music; knew the score and what as a minimum they had to achieve. ISCI had that 5 point deficit to knock over before getting those additional points but for some reason their team briefing seemed to lose the plot. Whoooosh "where's my coach" Iris had a fright when she thought she was playing against the 'surveyor from the hills' who with his implements could line up her putts..... But she found it was a rematch of the previous year and this made Peter H run to the clinic for embrocating ointment in case he was once again accosted by the flying legs-apart leap from Iris. The match was close throughout and yet again Peter failed to put the nail in the coffin and slipped to that one hole defeat ... but at least this time he had to sense to run away from the galloping Iris who was set to see if she could enter the USA Olympics with another flying leap. However, Disney Dave had ignored his look-alike Dave Clark in the World event and showed what a good player he is by cruising to 4:3 victory against Allan. The pairs were interesting in that the Oz music lover partnered VanDer Battes against Keith/Zeno and despite some wayward shots from all players escaped with a 2:1 victory Though this was almost cardiac arrest time for the OZ as she started the most amazing trembles and gut tightening anyone has noticed on a golf course [and it was not from any food problems] as the tenseness of the match grew [we are truting that it has not prevented the making of apple crumble for the Nov scramble!!!.

The True Englishman [although go and look at his advertising for the English Language school and Americana seems to be prominent] William felt that he could not attend to such barbaric rituals and so 'Vittel' Hans took Pawan on a F1 drive in a golf cart and the opposition were frightened as they actually saw Pawan turn whites However despite this affliction Hans/Pawan cruised through to a 5:4 win against Malcolm/Scott

TinCups vs. Sentul Swingers 6:4

Intiguing battle of the sexes here as the singles pitted the Singing Scandinavian Viggo against the Amazonian Wari. This has to be one of the bigger upsets in Wari's golfing record as she succumbed to a massive 6:5 drubbing. This obviously had dramatic impacts as the usually cool Kurt fell by 3:2 against Phil of course the comments about giving 100% handicap differentials was questioned [in fact there may be a call next season for bringing this back into line of the golfing standards of 75% but then again as this is a fun competition it may be overlooked when the committee sit down over a single malt].

Kyle back from yet another Latin America dance championship was controlled by Big Ed and they saw off Grant/Greg 2:1. Canadian June/Bein had an interesting tussle against which Jo Rizoli will appear and how subdued will Trevor's clothes be this week but it seems the female controlling influence was sufficient to guide them to 5:4. Fernando had to put up with Joseph [never comes out of the middle and why am I giving so many shots (stupid bugger that is because you play off a 3 handicap unlike most of us mortals)] and after a ding-dong match eased through 2:1 against Mark/Bob.

Sandbaggers vs. JLI 6:4

So what would the magical mysterious misogynistical group of Sandbagging turn up this month. Grumpy was elected for the singles and somehow managed to scrape (75 gross) to an all square against Matias and for once the WeeScot Derek got the better of an opponent as Cameron went down by two holes. Sightings do record that the Wee man did show some signs of nerves and there was a distinct possibility that he would continue to expand his dismal matchplay record. Kristal Mark had to drag around Wobbly but they could not stop Carlos / Fernando easing themselves to a 4:3 victory. Brad/Mow had to put up with a returning Panamanian [Mike Cleere ---- welcome back for your annual trip and hope Bali was better golf] and 'where the hell was he last night' Souders but the contest was nowhere to be seen as the margin of victory 7:6 clearly indicates and Brad/Mow duly hung their heads in despair. Captain Matt dragged himself from retirement and partnered with Zane against Jim/Steve to a titanic match with more swings than in a kid's playground as it finished All Square.

Pocksia vs. TeeSet 8:2

As always the TeeSet managed to invade several teams who were short of players but this spreading of their wealth does not seem to have harmed them as they won by a comfortable margin. Probably the more interesting fact is that Geoff Thwaites has been found out and now he has suffered yet another loss and so his match record is becoming very tarnished. This win has moved them up the table and now could be seen appearing on the podium but still waiting for Matt to recheck his scores in case there has been a slip up in the counting and adding department. So Geoff played with WhamBam Santi against that 'down the middle' LucyLucy and Noel but the pairing fell short to provide Pocksia with their only points. Jeff is becoming a singles expert and although he shouts his proress from the hills his record has been excellent [to date] as he took down. Not certain if he mentored James but whatever was the magic liquid they were drinking in the buggy it aided James to a victory. In the pairings Peter / Shawn and Rob/Scott all won though the 'oft low-gross' [and a gross 76 on the day] Rob combo had to struggle through to 18th to put in the killer blow against Troy/Robin.

Turtle Award – Two of them to report

Interestingly since Grumpy won the turtle award the little beasts have not been seen again. Poledancer Matt has developed an allergy to these little beasts and was desperate to remove them from the Sandbaggers. Whilst many people believe that they quick players, our coarse correspondent observed super meticulous alignment of putt and practice swings by vandebattes and ss. the committee used their ultimate veto rights and have forwarded the final turtle award to this infamous pair.

Technical Merit Prizes

The wee Scotsmen was peed off about all the comments on his stature and his Titleist golf ball was left dazed after his monster drive.0f n295m

Andy Wood kept it to 245m and Wari showed her driving skills with a 240 m drive.

Vociferous Grant Kinghorn silenced the male caddies with a miracle shot to 1.8m and then slotted the putt. However, Santi Miller showed that the Ladies accuracy is superior by a mere 10cm (1.7m from the pin).

Grumpy's Corner

Bloss was absent this month but his heart was certainly on the green[ish] fields and even managed to find an interesting photo and description of the editor. Whilst the majority of the description is correct it is indeed worrying that the age profile can be as long as 150 years!!!!

As a follow up on the previous newsletter it is sad to report that the JIL Committee did not receive any comments to the email sent to the club. This is strange for a club that prides itself on being one of the 'best' in Jakarta.

Mystic Meg's predictions

Top of the table clash had the correct result but was shy of a couple of points for the victors but no matter either way the result was sufficient to lift the trophy.

Another correct call for the TinCups but this time the prediction was over-generous by the odd point.

This was a real bottle breaker as from the depths of nowhere JLI found some players and gained 3 extra points at the expense of Grumpy and the other dwarfs

Really don't know what happened to TeeSet but this was probably the only flaw in yet another successful monthly prediction.

So Mystic is leaving for a long earned rest and no doubt of conjur up some more irrelevant ramblings for the 2012 season

Most Valuable Player award

So November will see the awarding of 2011 MVP but who are the potential candidates but as in prior years yet again the previous winner seems to have slipped down the ranking

Cloggies: David Jessup/Hans Bijlmer

TinCups: Joseph Peries

ISCI: Alan Llewellyn

TeeSet: Peter Reichmeier

Sandbaggers: Kees de Korver

Sentul Swingers: Joe Rizzoli

Pocksia: Chris Botting

JLI: Kelly Thrasher

Final Comments

The JIL Committee would like to thank various folks for the success of the 2011 season. First and foremost it is to all of the players who have been part of the best matchplay competition in Indonesia ----- we hope you have enjoyed it and not been too upset by some of the light hearted comments in the newsletter.

Secondly it is to Jagorawi ----- management / starters / Satpams / caddies / restaurant staff / drinks around the course / green keepers. It has been another pleasure playing here and the challenges of dug-up fairways [just kidding] ----- Edwin please pass on our thanks to all concerned and we hope that our suggestions have helped in the Club recognizing what an important Group of golfers the Jakarta Inter League as they do want the club to maintain high standards.
